witness, concentrating in the areas of divorce, child custody, abuse accusations, albeit, sexual or physical child abuse, domestic violence, et al, Sexual Allegations In Divorce (SAID), Parental Alienation (PA), et al. Mr. Tong has tendered testimony as an expert witness in child psychology; including cognitive developmental child psychology and evidence-based best practices of child forensic interviews, the handling/mis-handling of child protective investigations by CPS and the Police including memory source monitoring et al, Parental Alienation/SAID, sexual interest testing, et al

Tong has been Court approved as an Expert in indigent TPR/Criminal cases with the Office of the Public Defender in Florida (JAC), South Dakota, West Virginia, Iowa, Alabama, Arizona (Maricopa County OPDS), Georgia, Minnesota, Texas, and in California. Courts have accepted Mr. Tong's testimony in the areas of psychology and social science; including cognitive child developmental psychology; evidence-based best practices methodology of forensic interviews of children allegedly abused, child suggestibility/memory source monitoring/possible memory source contamination, et al. Mr. Tong has tendered as an Expert Witness in 20 States and testified as an Expert Witness well over 50 times in 18 States (criminal/civil). States where Mr. Tong has testified as an Expert Witness:

VT, MA, RI, VA, W.VA., NC, GA, FL, AL, IA, KY, TN, ID, AZ, CA, ND, KS, and MI

He has consulted on protracted divorce, custody and contested abuse-related (high-conflict) cases since 1995, and has been involved in the field of child sexual abuse accusations since 1984. Tong has been retained as a consulting and/or testifying Expert in court cases from all 50 states by parents and/or attorneys in alleged child sexual and physical abuse cases, failure to protect, shaken baby syndrome, coaching, Factitious Disorder by Proxy, and domestic violence cases. As an Expert, Civil Courts in FL, TN, GA and MI have excluded him from the Rule of Sequestration. Mr. Tong has also testified as an Expert at Post-Conviction Criminal Court Evidentiary Hearings in Florida (3.850). He has worked with the Florida Legislature impacting the passage of 3 laws - the Spanking Bill Law; the Malicious False Child Abuse Statute (F.S. Ch. 39.205(9)) and the repeal of the Florida Child Abuse Registry. Dean Tong, in addition to his work involving legal cases in family, juvenile, criminal, administrative appeals and state appellate courts, has testified as an expert witness in a criminal case pre-trial "taint hearing." Tong, a former Medical School attendee, and licensed laboratory medical technologist and hematology specialist in hospitals and reference labs in facilities in Massachusetts, Florida and Georgia, worked in the medical field from 1976 - 2001. Dean Tong was admitted to the University of St. Lucia School of Medicine - Medical School in 1983 in the Caribbean in the West Indies. He attended the same for about 4 months.

Of significance, to protective parents/usually mothers who have lost child custody or may lose child custody in the future due to alleged false allegations of abuse, Shaken Baby Syndrome - failure to protect, failure to thrive, parental alienation, or PCF/FDIA by Proxy (aka Pediatric Condition Falsification) or Malingering, et al Mr. Tong has been retained as an Expert to assist the same maternal litigants and their attorneys in several of these cases, nationally, including cases where mothers are falsely accused of "coaching" their children to make allegations of sexual abuse against men and fathers. More recently, Mr. Tong has been retained as an Expert to help defend the accused in a case of alleged sexual assault involving the United States Center for SafeSport (USCSS).

Publications:

Dean Tong's third book Elusive Innocence: Survival Guide for the Falsely Accused (Huntington House, 2002) received peer-reviewed recognition in a professional journal – The American Journal of Family Therapy May/June issue 2006 published by Francis & Taylor Group (Routledge) in a scientific article titled Parentectomy in the Crossfire. Elusive Innocence obtained legal peer review, also, in the University of Florida's Levin College of Law publication titled Legal Alert.

Tong's first book, Don't Blame ME, Daddy (Hampton Roads, 1992) was groundbreaking in that it was the first work in any commercial bookstore addressing false/unfounded child sexual abuse allegations issues within the dynamic of high-conflict divorces and child custody battles. Tong also contributed a Chapter titled Falsely Accused: From Victim to Victor published by Mithra Publishing, 2015 as well as a Chapter titled Find Your Calling Through a Horrific Memory: the Story of a Victim Turned Expert in the book The Ultimate Guide to Healing Your Past published by Frank Healy (2015). Tong is also Author of the paper – Pitfalls When Divorcing a BPD Spouse, and Creator of the taped series' – Sexual Allegations in the 90's and In Fear of Fathers. Dean Tong's work; and specifically his scientific article and third book have been cited by scores of psychologists in their works.

Dean Tong is the author of a scientific peer reviewed journal article titled “The Penile Plethysmograph, Abel Assessment for Sexual Interest and MSI-II: Are They Speaking the Same Language?” published by Taylor and Francis in their May – June 2007 issue of The American Journal of Family Therapy. Tong's scientific study, which achieved statistical and clinical significance, is referenced by Gene Abel, M.D. at his web site here <http://abelscreening.com/research-development/>. On January 13, 2009 Tong’s study and article was cited and quoted by the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals for Western Wisconsin in the case of The United States of America v. Bruce J. Rhodes (Case No. 07-3953) referencing the Penile Plethysmograph. The exact scientific citation for Tong’s article is: The American Journal of Family Therapy, 35:187-202, 2007
